Responses

1. Economic Recovery and Growth

Given the current climate of federal and global fiscal restraint, what specific federal measures do you feel are needed for a sustained economic recovery and enhanced economic growth in Canada?

Triage money, prioritize spending on the basic essential necessities of life, shelter, food, healthcare, education, communication, transportation...

2. Job Creation

As Canadian companies face pressures resulting from such factors as uncertainty about the U.S. economic recovery, a sovereign debt crisis in Europe, and competition from a number of developed and developing countries, what specific federal actions do you believe should be taken to promote job creation in Canada, including that which occurs as a result of enhanced internal and international trade?

adher to strick CSA approval guidelines, rejecting substandard imports

3. Demographic Change

What specific federal measures do you think should be implemented to help the country address the consequences of, and challenges associated with, the aging of the Canadian population and of skills shortages?

RESPECT ... show some respect for the dignity of life.

4. Productivity

With labour market challenges arising in part as a result of the aging of Canada's population and an ongoing focus on the actions needed for competitiveness, what specific federal initiatives are needed in order to increase productivity in Canada?

STOP paying public servants who aren't productive, just eliminate the positions. We shouldn't be buying peoples time and tying them down to a desk job that's not productive. That's not just a waste of taxmoney. It's a waste of a persons lifetime.

5. Other Challenges

With some Canadian individuals, businesses and communities facing particular challenges at this time, in your view, who is facing the most challenges, what are the challenges that are being faced and what specific federal actions are needed to address these challenges?

Real Women...stay-at-home parents and homemakers...didn't Brian Mulroney promise to at least give us some CPP credits? instead we get told we're a worthless burden on the taxpayers and should go back to school and get a job.
