Frequency Of Contact

Percentage of compliance to level of intervention (FOC) standards: The indicator represents the total number of face-to-face contacts with offenders supervised in the community that are within established policy timeframes per the total number of face-to-face contacts required with offenders (via casework record entries in OMS). Level of intervention (as per Commissioner's Directive 715-1) refers to the minimum frequency of face-to-face contacts per month that the Parole Officer is required to have with his or her assigned offender. The level of intervention may also be referred to as frequency of contact (FOC). The appropriate FOC level must be confirmed within the first 30 days of the offender's release to the community.
